

HERE IS WHY YAHWEH WILL JUDGE

February 10, 2024

3:13 p.m.

YAHWEH WANTS TO SAY THIS:

People have a warped view. They feel I should be just like their pastor or someone who only shares words that will bring comfort. Doesn't My Word also give sayings of judgment and correction? Am I not a "good" God in how you say it when I bring a judgment? What does the Book of Revelation look like to most preachers? To them, Revelation looks like a Book that would never have judgments geared to overrule or influence their way of living.

But what does Yahweh reveal? My judgment is not based on how good you've been or how many good works you do to think there is favor. My way brings judgment to put Kingdom order as the leading way to overrule what currently leads in the churches. Please see it. I must cause a catalyst to come and place an order over My Church plan to get those who say they are Mine to stand under an order of a course correction just as in reformations and splitting off from the evil ways the people permitted.

You hate judgment. You hate Me for saying there needs to be cleansing within My Church. What would you say to your children who take your credit cards and use them without you yielding them? Your children would also say when they present your credit cards that they come in your name and declare they have governing to spend your credit and say they can purchase whatever they feel like getting. What would you say to your children who take what is yours and say they can walk in your spending power, using your name, pretending they carry your way of ownership? What would you handle them with? What approach would yield from your way? Would you give them hugs? Would you coddle them? Would you go out and say to your others in your house some words of love in a boasting, "I'm so proud; I raised them well, and they are so well-behaved"? Or would there be a judgment or consequences for the actions they brought out? Would you weigh the depth of your love when you give judgments for your children's behavior? Would there be sadness within for how you must put them on a course correction but with harsh judgment? You would not think of judgment with hatred when you discipline. You would love your children yet not tolerate their blatant disrespect to your household order.

Here is where Yahweh stands:

Yahweh has let the way of the false and the true way dwell together. The saints and the sinners both attend church gatherings. I do not say this judgment is a plan to separate the goats from the sheep in Church ways. Instead, Yahweh is bringing a separation of His Church way from the ungodly church houses while stripping away what power I lay there. The church gathering as an entity will be under review. The way of taking Yahweh's name in vain and saying words that Yahweh didn't say is as cancerous sores in the Church. I must deal with how the church houses are carrying the leading in Satan's nature: lying.

Let's say you are on trial for a crime someone committed. And let's say someone said, "I can say you're free to go. The actual criminal was found and arrested. Let me sign your document and pretend I am the judge. I will use the judge's signature." But the person saying you can go free has no governing authority, and the actual judge did not send them. What would happen to your way? The real judge may overlook your innocence and say you were just as guilty of falsifying documents as the one who stole the judge's governing, and you became an accomplice.

Would freedom be gained from pretending to steal governing authority, falsely claiming to have the judge's signature? Shouldn't a judgment be yielded against the pretender and the one who took partnership in the crime by agreeing with it? Would it be a just action to leave the ones who broke the law to do their own evil devices, left alone without punishment, coddled, or given a "love talk" by the judge? Or would it be better to bring order and prevent further abusive ways and say, "There must be judgment for pretending to speak in the name and authority of someone who has the power to set up someone for prison or set them free”?

I must judge.

They say women are only given governing in any way in Yahweh when there is a low count of godly men serving. Yahweh says it this way: Grace has made churches take in evil sayings and evil living, serving lowercase gods, spitting on the name of Yahweh. They take these lowercase gods to their churches in the form of humans and doctrines and make their own graven images. They say they have no further need of what is written, and they feel with their feelings of wounded ways and say that God would never cause them to deal with judgment. They say they don't want to worship Me and show Me their true way of living with how they distort what I say.

Yahweh is the One True God. I AM who I AM. There can be no other gods before Yahweh. I will visit all the churches that say they serve Yahweh and will take a look at who they really worship. Is it their church leaders that they put up on a pedestal? Are they saying they take on Satan's nature and make themselves their own lowercase deity? Are they saying that Yahweh's written Word is outdated, unable to work with how they govern church living today? What are they saying about Yahweh?

I AM who I AM.

I will no longer sit and wait for the men to rise up and live a life of holiness. I will no longer wait on the church leaders to live a holy and set-apart life from the world. I will no longer wait for the prominent leaders of these two dysfunctional church cultures (charismatics and cessationists) to come under My order. I will not wait any longer. Yes, evil will continue in this Church age. And greater evil will come forward in this coming age of the Antichrist. This hearing of greater evil coming is nothing new. But I will stand with a plan for righteousness, holy living in worship of Yahweh.

There will be a stripping away within both church cultures. I do not weigh your holy way based on whether you sit quietly in the church pew or roll on the church floor. I am looking for clean hands and a pure way within your heart. You can't gauge the whole Yahweh in presentation based on a few examples in written Scripture. Always stand with the written Word while also gaining an understanding that I will interact with My creation however I would choose. Your church culture will not save you. No current church house has an unlimited understanding. And your pastors and favorite church leaders are not given unhindered perception. Be loyal to Yahweh.
