

ARE YOU GOING TO SULK?

Journal Entry

October 10, 2010

YAHWEH: So, what are you going to do, Susanna? Are you going to sulk?

SUSANNA: Oh, God, I see how most of this is my fault. I am trying not to let You down, but I have been.

YAHWEH: You will be rejected. Do you remember My Words to you, Susanna? Sometimes you may not do anything wrong. Because people react to you that way, are you going to apologize every time you offend someone? What if Jesus apologized because of the way He spoke—or John the Baptist? You cannot apologize when the offense is coming from truth in love. Let's move on, Susanna. Let's move on. There's so much work to do. Remember Moses before he walked in that power and anointing? You have to still love people even when they are against you.

SUSANNA: Oh, Lord, where do You want me? I thought there was nothing left to die, but I see my heart is continually wicked.

YAHWEH: Don't try and make people do things, Susanna. Just give them the Word, and let My Spirit do the work. Susanna, release them. Let them go.
